MRS. V. B. McLEAN IS FATALLY BURNED

Gasoline Explodes When She Attempts to Light Fire

GARMENT ENVELOPED

Mrs. McLean Dies From Burns at Alexandria Hospital Last Night—Had Been There Only an Hour.

Mrs. Adelia McLean, thirty years old, wife of Virgil B. McLean, who lived at Lorton, Fairfax county, fifteen miles southwest of this city, was fatally burned shortly after 5 o'clock yesterday afternoon, expiring at 8.15 o'clock last night at the Alexandria Hospital.

Mrs. McLean has just started a fire in her kitchen stove for the purpose of preparing dinner. In order to expediate matters she procured a can filled with kerosene and poured it on the kindling and as a result an explosion followed enveloping her clothing and before the flames were extinguished she was literally burned from head to foot.

Afterward it was deemed advisable to bring Mrs. McLean to the hospital and she was rushed here arriving at that institution shortly after 7 o'clock and she lived only a little more than an hour. Dr. S. B. Moore was summoned, but her burns were such that practically nothing could be done to save her life.

Mrs. McLean besides her husband is survived by two small children.

The body was removed to Demaine's mortuary chapel and prepared for burial.

PLAN ANOTHER STRIKE

Question of Closer Organization With Workers Brought Up

Montreal, Quebec, June 17.—Organized labor is drawing lines for a second big steel strike, it was indicated here yesterday, when the question of organization of the steel workers was brought up on the floor of the annual convention of the American Federation of Labor.

A hot fight developed over consideration of a resolution calling on the Amalgamated Association of Iron, Steel and Tinplate Workers to rejoin the steel workers' general organization committee, composed of 24 unions.

Steel workers of the United States are at the mercy of the "steel trust" unless organization work goes on the resolution declared. The Amalgamated Association, the biggest steel union, withdrew from the general organization shortly after the steel strike.

The entire matter will be left with the American Federation of Labor executive council under the recommendation of a committee which considered the resolution. The committee nonconcurred with the resolution, evidently feating it might arouse antagonism on the part of the Amalgamated Association.

The convention voted to leave the matter with the executive council.

SWINDLED OUT OF $12,000

Pennsylvanian Tells Sensational Story to Chief of Police

Morristown, Pa., June 17.—With a faith that might move mountains, but did not return his child, George H. Coughlin, father of Blakely Coughlin, who was kidnapped from his home on the morning of June 2, was swindled out of $12,000 by a man whom he believed was to return his missing boy.

This was the sensational story which Coughlin told to Chief of Police Eiler yesterday and offered to corroborate the facts by producing a friend who accompanied him to the spot where the money was placed, and from which it afterward was found to have disappeared.

The chronology of the manner in which the $12,000 disappeared reads like a weird and improbable story, born of the romantic trend of an author's mind. Nevertheless the police declare they believe the fathers tale, and are prepared now to search for a man characterized as "the meanest swindled" with whom the police chief has ever had to deal.

WORK FOR "CHEAT HUNTER"

An article on this page yesterday called attention to a state official, now operating in Richmond, who is termed the "cheat hunter." This, of course, is not his official title, nor is "Pinchback" the real title of Alexandria's motorcycle policeman, although he is generally known by that name.

It is suggested that in these days of high prices and often fraud, there is much that can be done by an official whose duty it shall be to see that purchasers obtain all they pay for.

A short time ago a man was sent on to the Corporation Court on the charge of violating the prohibition law, it being alleged that he was transporting more than a quart of whisky. One bottle was supposed to contain a quart. Apart from this he had a small bottle filled with the stimulant. When the case came up in the upper court the liquor was measured when it was found that the contents of both bottles fell short of a quart.

A cotemporary contains the following in reference to the short weight given in these days of high prices:

"The city government could undertake no more popular campaign than a drive against short-weight and short-measure food merchants. At a time like this, when people are paying two or three ordinary prices for the necessaries of life, it is abominable that the consumer should be exposed to the additional hardship of receiving less than he buys, of being deliberately and systematically cheated out of what he is compelled to purchase at extraordinary figures. To give light weight or false measure is the meanest form of pocking picking even in low-price periods. At a period like this it is no longer petty larceny but grand larceny; not a minor offense, but a serious crime.

"It is to be regretted that the penalties are not more severe. But they should be enforced to the limit and without mercy. Examples should be made of all who are caught, and the magistrates should co-operate with the inspectors to protect purchasers."

AWFUL RESPONSIBILITY

We suspect that many citizens of the best intention fail to realize the serious responsibility imposed upon them when called to act as jurymen in murder cases. We occasionally sit in a court room and watch the selection of a jury which is to try some man who has shed his brother's blood. Occasionally but two or three can be found out of fifty talesmen who have not expressed an opinion, or who believe in capital punishment.

It may be well to suggest that jury service is an unpleasant duty imposed by God and man alike, and the citizen who succeeds in having himself excused violates a positive law of heaven.

Five centuries before the law was proclaimed from Mount Sinai, after the waters of the flood had subsided, the first law was proclaimed by the Lord Himself to Noah—"so sheddeth man's blood by man shall his blood be shed." Previous to the deluge we are told that "violence filled the earth." Doubtless right made right during the antediluvian era, and murders were common occurrences.

(Many well-meaning people are averse to capital punishment, but in cases of premeditated murder when they evade the duty and in one way or another are excused as jurymen, they are liable to be called to account by Him who uttered the awful command in high heaven.

After James Ba[illegible] of Pittston, Pa., was placed on [illegible] at Wilkes-Barre yesterday for [illegible] murder of Louis Baloome, Judge [illegible]n M. Garman discharged two [illegible]rs from further service for cowa[illegible]e. The two men declared they w[illegible] afraid to act on a jury when an It[illegible]n was being tried. Many Italian[illegible] have committed murders in Pittsto[illegible] and both men said they had no des[illegible] to have the murderer's friends turn[illegible] them. Judge Garman scored the [illegible] severely.

ANTEDELUVIAN LONGEVITY

There has always been a certain percentage of rainbow chasers in this world. Disciples of Ponce de Leon are still looking for the elixir of life. The forecast of the Bible (Isaiah, LXV, 20) in describing the coming golden era tells us "there shall be no more thence an infant of days, nor an old man who hath not filled his days: for the child shall die an hundred years old."

Certain enthusiasts would fasten the advent of this glorious epoch, as is evidenced by the following:

"A race of patriarchs, each individual 1,000 years old, was pictured as a possibility, by Dr. A. I. Logan in an address before the Allied Medical Association of America in New York yesterday. Dr. Logan also declared that determination of sex can be controlled and that parents can make their children geniuses by mental suggestion begun several months before birth.

"These theories caused lively discussion when their originator declared there is no reason for a man dying at 90 or 100, and that he could live to be 1,000 years with proper care and dieting. Dr. Logan advocated methods of life similar to those he said were followed by figures of the Old Testament, who, he said, the Bible proved lived several hundred years.

"The doctor claimed he had been successful in predetermining the sex of children in seventy-nine cases. By mental suggestion begun long before the birth of the child, he said, sex, stature and disposition could be controlled."

BASTINADO FOR PROFITEERS

A dispatch from Budapest says Minister of Justice Ferdinandy has introduced a bill in the National Assembly providing punishment of up to twenty-five strokes on the soles of the feet of male profiteers.

MYSTERY NOVEL IN REAL LIFE

All the world loves a mystery and particularly if it has any sexual appeal. Just now the newspapers are printing daily chapters in one of the most exciting mystery tales that has been published since the Stanford White tragedy, and which up to date has not been excelled by those masters of fiction who have invented "detective" stories for the delectation of the multitude.

Human life began ages ago in mystery, danger and fear. If anthropologists are correct we still "throw back" intellectually and even spiritually to primeval days when wonder was the great quality of the human mind. The Elwell case has all the elements of fiction of any novel ever written and has the present added charm that we cannot look back to the last chapter to see how it all came out.

Elwell was a gambler, a sportsman, a gay lothario—unless he is maligned by those who knew him best—possessed of a pleasing personality and the heart of a crocodile. His mysterious death seems to have been a just retribution for his defiance of the laws of God and man, but the mystery is so deep and thus far so impenetrable that it interests everyone who has any knowledge of life in its kaleidoscopic phases. Apparently he died as the fool dieth so that moralists can draw many lessons, but the truth is that the chief interest is in the mystery attending the murder, the motivation of a deed so unusual in its circumstances and so tragic in its end.

Without assuming to be moral censors, we can say that Elwell paid too dearly for his sport, that a short life and a merry one commends itself to none who believe that man is placed here for definite purposes, one of which is to elevate or help in elevating the whole of society. Outraging decency is wrong, if for no other reason than that it pays so badly.—Philadelphia Inquirer.

BANDIT GETS $60,000

Desperado Holds Up Truck, Binds Guards and Calmly Rifles Sacks

Atlanta, Ga., June 17.—Liberty bonds valued at $60,000 were stolen by a highwayman who last night held up a post office truck and ransacked the registered mail bags, postal authorities estimated yesterday.

An exact accounting can not be made until persons to whom the bonds were addressed report, it was said. The bonds were being sent from the Federal Reserve Bank here to banks at Savannah and Macon.

The robbery occurred at a downtown corner when the bandit stepped on the running board of the truck and covered the driver and guard with two pistols, ordering them to drive to a secluded spot. After binding the men the robber hurriedly went through the pouches and departed.

MEALS AND WEDDING BELLS

New Jersey Widower Hustles Three Months With Frying Pans

Gloucester, N. J., June 17.—Springtime fancy that lightly turns to thoughts of love has nothing to do with the quest for a wife, instituted yesterday by Joseph Duffel, 40 years old, who lives at 413 Somerset street, Gloucester. His needs for a mate are based on sole, rather than soul reasons, but they fill the bill as far as marrying Joey is concerned.

Four months ago his wife died, and he lived alone. He cooked his meals, swept the floor, washed the dishes, made the beds and was in training to make a good husband for some women during all those 120 days.

Finally the job palled on Joseph. It was pretty tough after working at the shipyards all day to come home and wrestle with a frying pan and a cook book, and then clean up the house. So he placed an advertisement for a housekeeper.

Either the supply was scarce or the Gloucester brand was extinct, for in all the weeks that Joseph had his little "ad" in the newspaper no housekeeper appeared.

At last Joseph felt it was no use to advertise for a mere housekeeper, you had to have pulling power to the "ad" to "sell" the job. So yesterday he changed his line and his tactics. His classified ad did not read: "Wanted, a housekeeper," but there it stood in all its effulgence and the cost of the extra words: "Wanted, a housekeeper, object matrimony."

"They can make 'em blondes or brunettes. I don't care," said Duffel last night. "I only want a wife that can cook and knows how to do the housework. If there is anything to the old adage that the shortest route to a man's heart is through his stomach, just let some capable dame come along and show me three square meals. That means wedding bells for her."

VIRGINIA NEWS

The Danville police have made a full expose of the "baby mystery" following the arrival of Harry Roberts, Garner Roberts and Galloway Carter, under arrest on a charge of aiding and abetting Callie Talley, aged 19, in abandoning her infant child three weeks ago. The young woman has not been arrested. The police say Harry Roberts, the alleged father of the child, has declined to marry the girl and that with the other two men exposed her publicly in Rockingham county, North Carolina, John W. Carter, Commonwealth's attorney, hearing of what had taken place in North Carolina, initiated prosecutions last Tuesday and a requisition was presented to the Governor of North Carolina. A detective crossed the State line, secured the assistance of the sheriff of Rockingham county, and arrested the three men, all of them wealthy and living on adjoining plantations.

Vice-Chairman J. Bruce Kremer, of the Democratic National Committee, yesterday telegraphed Joseph J. Sinnott, formerly of Richmond, saying that Chairman Cummings desired to appoint Mr. Sinnott as chief doorkeeper of the Democratic convention at San Francisco. Mr. Sinnott accepted and left for the Golden Gate last night. Mr. Sinnott was doorkeeper of the House of Representatives for eight years under the Speakership of Champ Clark. When the Republicans regained control of the House Mr. Sinnott became a minority employe. He has been either majority or minority employe of the lower branch for more than 20 years and is known to practically all Democratic politicians throughout the country.

William A. Condrey, a prominent farmer residing near Winterpock, Chesterfield county, was struck by lightning Monday afternoon and instantly killed. Mr. Condrey was driving a plow at the time of the fatal bolt, and his horse was also instantly killed. He was 70 years of age.

The Farmers Bank of Butterworth, near Petersburg, was entered by yeggmen early Tuesday morning who blew open the safe and made their escape with $11,000 worth of Liberty bonds. No money was stolen. The burglars were frightened away by persons in a house adjoining the bank building, who were awakened by the explosion. The loss is fully covered by insurance.

Good Bread is Quality---
Plus Scientific Knowledge

You may use the best flour, the richest milk, the best shortening, the best salt, the purest yeast, the best sugar in making bread---but they are only one-half the requirement.
The other half is the science of breadmaking ---and it is of the utmost importance.
The housewife, with all her care, and the average baker, cannot attain the ideal results--because they lack the profound knowledge of the chemistry of the dough-batch, as well as the facilities necessary to accomplish the full development of the nutritive element.
Bread rightly made is a perfectly bala[illegible] ration. how important it is that you select your bread with discrimination, is the product of these two great essentials--superlative quality and advanced scientific methods--which make it not only 100 per cent pure --but also 100 per cent nutritious

Corby Bread

Corby Bread is made right here in Alexandria, in a Bakery that has every feature of equipment and every facility of organization to maintain every day in the year that reputation which it has earned--the BEST BREAD QUALITY PLUS SCIENTIFIC KNOWLEDGE can produce.

Courts Martial and Civil Prosecutions Demanded to Clear up Bergdell Case

Philadelphia, June 17.—In a sweeping indictment of the escape of Grover C. Bergdoll, the millionaire slacker, now at large after flaunting the power of the United States during the war, Colonel John Q. Donaldson, Inspector General of the United States Army, has made recommendations in his report to Secretary Baker, of the War Department, providing courts martial for three members of the army and prosecutions for civilians who have figured prominently in the scandal.

Courts martial for Major John E. Hunt, commandant at Fort Jay, and Sergeants John O'Hare and Calvin York, who were Bergdoll's guards, are asked for.

Prosecution of D. Clarence Giboney and prosecution of Mrs. Emma C. Bergdoll, former Magistrate Jas. E. Romig and "Ike" Steicher, chauffeur for the draft dodger and the man now supposed to be his companion in hiding, are demanded.

Request for an investigation by a Federal grand jury of the participation of former Brigadier General Samuel T. Ansell, former Acting Judge Advocate General of the United States, and his present law partner, Colonel Bailey, is included.

The report is now in the hands of Charles D. McAvoy, who confirmed last night the statement that these recommendations had been made by Donaldson, who has conducted a searching investigation into Bergdoll's escape for the War Department.

KILLED BY STORMS

Heavy Damage at Staten Island and Cleveland. Wires Swept Down

New York, June 17.—One man was killed during a storm of tornado-like intensity that swept over Tottenville, Staten Island late yesterday, uprooting trees, blowing down telephone and telegraph poles, electric wires, fences and demolishing a small unoccupied hotel.

The roof of the Hotel Brunswick and the Tottenville Hotel were ripped off and a dozen frame buildings were partially wrecked.

As a result of damage to electric poles the town was in darkness last night. Most of the damage was done in the first three minutes of the twenty minutes the storm lasted.

The station platform of the Staten Island Railroad was lifted into a field a thousand feet away. Motorboats, coal barges and other craft were torn from their moorings and blown to sea. Streets and cellars were flooded and residents imprisoned by wreckage until released by police, firemen and volunteers.

Cleveland, Ohio, June 17.—One man was killed, another was reported dead, a dozen others had narrow escapes from death and thousands of dollars of damage was done during a terrific electrical, wind and rain storm of almost cloud-burst proportions here yesterday. Nearly an inch of rain fell in six minutes and the wind attained a velocity of 57 miles an hour while the storm was at its height.

OFFICER IS ROBBED

Wilmington "Terror" Loses His Bank Roll When Aboard Pullman

Wilmington, N. C., June 17.—Chief Nathan Williams, of the Wilmington police department, may be the terror to all evil doers in this burg, but there is at least one crook in the world to whom the chief's hat is off in honest admiration.

For this cool gentleman calmly pilfered a considerable sum from beneath the chief's pillow while he was on board a Pullman en route to the international convention of police chiefs in Detroit several days ago.

Judging from the reports of the affair, it was a clean job. The boss cop of Wilmington retired shortly after leaving Wilmington, and placed his bank roll under his head. He dozed off and dreamed of a perfect paradise where crooks crawled in the roads begging a nice policeman to run them in and hang up a record for himself.

He awoke between Rocky Mount and Richmond ,and reaching under the pillow for his financial support, he suddenly hopped half-clad in the aisle and let out a startled yell. His money was gone.

FARMER SLAIN IN BED

Wilmington, Del., June 17.—Isaac Hammond, a farmer residing near Felton ,was murdered at an early hour yesterday morning by a colored farm hand, Clarence Broadered, who secured a gun from the attic and, prying open a bedroom window, fired. Mrs. Hammond, who was lying beside her husband, summoned assistance and the slayer was captured by Sheriff Cook and a posse. He was taken to the Kent County jail at Dover. No motive has yet been found.

BRIDE SHOCKED PRIEST

New Orleans, June 17.—Father Antonio of the Order of the Oblate, Fathers of Mary Immaculate, yesterday refused to marry a couple because the bride was not properly clad. She appeared to him so shocking, he said, that he had the sexton put out the lights so that she might retire and properly clothe herself.

A recent order issued by Archbishop Shaw bars women who are improperly clothed.

QUET IN DULUTH

Lynching Spirit of Tuesday Night Passes Away Yesterday

Duluth, Minn., June 17.—The lynching spirit which flared here in the far north Tuesday night and exacted the lives of three negroes yesterday died away.

The three negroes were in a band of six circus roustabouts accused of assaulting a 17-year-old white girl here. They were "tried" by a mob which battered in the jail doors, dragged the prisoners half a block and hanged them to an electric light pole at intervals of eight minutes.

He applied the brakes, but they failed to work, it is said. The motorcycle was a wreck.

THE ELWELL MURDER

Lexington, Ky., Victim Said to Have Had Fifty "Lady Friends"

New York, June 17.—Efforts to locate the murderer of Joseph Bowne Elwell were concentrated yesterday on Lexington, Ky.

Detectives left here Tuesday night, under orders of District Attorney Edward Swann, to investigate the most promising clue authorities have obtained in what Swann termed "the the most mysterious murder of a generation."

Swann early yesterday made the unqualified statement that the slayer of the whist expert, gambler and turfman was the father or brother of a girl member of a prominent family in Lexington, who was "betrayed" by Elwell.

Elwell was at Lexington for several weeks this spring in the interest of his racing stable. He stayed for the Derby, but was forced to leave Lexington earlier than he had intended, fearing the wrath of the girl's father or brother, Swann said.

"The girl's first name was Anna," Swann said.

Although authorities failed to explain how they came in possession of the latest clue, it was reported that it was obtained from William Barnes, secretary and valet to Elwell.

Barnes was questioned for several hours last night by Swann and other officials.

"We have learned a great deal about Elwell from Barnes. He told us the murdered man was on terms of intimacy with at least fifty girls and women."

Barnes, according to the district attorney, told how Elwell often had women in his home. A room on the third floor kas fitted up with toilet waters, lip sticks, rouge and other articles for use of women.

KILLS STUDENT

Classmate Tells Police of Tragedy Following Carousal and Quarrel

Hanover, N. H., June 17.—Henry C. Maroney of West Bedford, Mass., a Dartmouth College student, was shot and instantly killed in his room in the Theta Delta Chi Fraternity house here by Robert T. Meads of La Grane, Ill., another student.

Meads said he had been drinking with Maroney and the shooting was the outcome of a quarrel. He wired his father, A. H. Meads of Chicago, to come here and aid him.

Three years ago Meads was involved in another shooting, in which a classmate was killed. It was stated at the time that Meads was holding a shotgun when it was accidentally discharged. The shooting of Maroney has created a tremendous stir in the student body at Dartmouth. Maroney was popular.

According to the authorities, Maroney and other students called on Meads early yesterday morning. Meads, it was said, resented their instrusion and fired several shots at them. The students withdrew, but Meads is alleged to have pursued Maroney and, entering his room in the fraternity house, quarreled with him. The shooting followed.

WRIT OF ERROR GRANTED

Negro Shot Lynchburg Officer When Arrest Was Attempted

John Williams, a colored man, with a string of aliases that would do credit to a scientific forger, under sentence of death July 7 for the murder of Detective L. A. Mann, of Lynchburg, the night of March 25, will not go to the chair that day. The supreme court of appeals has granted a writ of error and supersedeas in the case on application of his counsel, Don P. Halsey of Lynchburg. The case will be heard at the Staunton term of the court, which begins in September. There are many unusual features connected with the case.

Williams was in Lynchburg and was seen by the detectives and they sought to arrest him, without a warrant, on the charge of carrying a gun. They accosted him, one caught hold of him and they demanded his gun. He said he had none. They did not declare they were officers—there were three men at the spot. Detective Wheeler, Detective Mann and Detective Honig, the latter a private officer. Williams broke away, dropped a guitar he was carrying, and drew a heavy revolver and fired and felled Detective Wheeler. He then shot Detective Mann through the head and fired at Detective Honig. He made his escape. Detective Mann lived a short time.

Officers had reason to believe that Williams was wanted in Greenville, S. C., where he had shot and killed two officers. They did not know his name, except that he was nicknamed "Slim." He disappeared from Lynchburg and was located at Toledo, Ohio. He was brought back on a requisition and when arraigned entered a plea of guilty, the case being submitted to the judge without a jury. The evidence was adduced and Judge Christian convicted him of murder in the first degree, holding that the man knew he was wanted for murder, that he habitually carried a pistol, that he had made contradictory statements regarding the matter and that he had no regard for human life.

Senator Halsey, contends that the decision of the court was not as contemplated in the law, which provides that when there has been a homicide that it is manslaughter or second degree murder, that the burden of proof is on the state to prove that it was "deliberate, premeditated and wilful" to carry the death penalty. He contends that the man did not know that the men who accosted him were officers, they said nothing to that effect and they were in plain clothes. He says that he could not have premeditated the killing, but that he was trying to get away.

Records kept for a decade by a large steel mill show accidents to be more frequent and more severe among non English speaking workers than among those speaking English.

TO OUR COAL TRADE

Under present conditions our receipts of domestic coal are limited and prices are constantly changing.

We will be glad to enter orders; deliver the coal as promptly as we can secure it, and bill it to our customers on the basis of cost to us plus our usual gross margin, and this will have to be our policy at this time as everything indicates great uncertainty in the coal trade.

Our customers can be assured that we will do everything possible to keep the price as low as we are able to, consistent with quality, weight and service, and we shall be glad to have you entrust the business to us on this basis.

This also applies to any orders we already have from our trade.

Added 50%
To Tire Mileage

A Boston tire dealer, for three years, has gathered data on Miller Tires. And he reports as follows:

Users find their tire mileage increased from 50 per cent to 75 per cent.

Blow-outs have been eliminated.

Uniform mileage has been accomplished.

Only six tires in 1,000 come back for adjustment—only five Miller Cords in a year.

A Louisville dealer compared wear and mileage on 116 styles of tires which he repaired. The constant Miller supremacy has caused him now to handle the Miller Tires only.

A California stage line made million-mile comparisons with 21 leading makes. And the Miller won by long odds.

You owe yourself a comparison on your own car. The Miller is the tire of the day.

THEATRES

Richmond—Olive Thomas

In her newest Selznick picture, "The Flapper," impish Olive Thomas brings to the screen one of the most delightful comedy plays in which she yet has performed. The title itself speaks for the nature of the picture and as a moonstruck, mimicking and self-deluded "flapper," lovely Olive is at the height of her exquisite self.

In this new play Olive Thomas has a role that is ideally suited to her splendid talents. As the boarding school "flapper" just beginning her entrance into womanhood, wild with the thoughts of romance and adventure, Miss Thomas is seen at her best. It would be difficult to imagine a more suitable role for the star or a funnier theme with which to display her talents.

Ingomar—"Camille of the North"

Tonight will witness the showing, at the Ingomar Theatre, of "Camille of the Yukon," the stirring William Fox photodrama of Alaskan life. The most gripping scenes ever presented in a play of the far North make this a screen feature of singular strength and fascination. The staging by R. A. Walsh is in itself a delightful entertainment. The photography is superb.

BANK BANDITS KILL MAN

Escape in Auto After Running Battle With Motorcycle Policeman

Chicago, June 17.—A. D. Rouillard, owner of a moving picture theatre, was shot and killed and a policeman was wounded yesterday when five armed bandits made an unsuccessful attempt to rob the Dressel Commercial and Savings Bank on the West Side.

Fred Brunke, a patrolman, and Rouillard were in the bank when the robbers entered. Brunke opened fire, but his gun was shot out of his hand. Rouillard offered resistance and one of the robbers killed him.

The men then fled. Their automobile was pursued by a motorcycle policeman, who exchanged more than 100 shots with them.

This was the third time the bank had been held up in the last two weeks.

British Admiralty Lord to Ask For Power if British Fall Behind

London, June 17.—Walter Hume Long, First Lord of the Admiralty, declared yesterday in the House of Commons that the Admiralty was following important developments of the naval program of the United States with the greatest closeness.

Mr. Long said the Admiralty would not fail to ask Parliament for necessary powers if its members thought they were falling behind their proper naval standard.

SHOOTS HIS WIFE

Police Seek Ball Player After Attack On Bride of Five Months

Scranton, Pa., June 17.—Detectives of this city and nearby places are hunting for Stanley Reese, 24, local baseball and basketball star, who escaped after shooting his wife twice.

Mrs. Reese is in the State Hospital with an even chance for recovery. One bullet entered her arm and lodged under her right eye. The second bullet went into her breast.

Reese and his wife were married less than five months ago, but have been very unhappy. They separated two months ago and since then the husband is said to have made repeated attempts to have Mrs. Roose come back and live with him. She was sitting on the porch at the home of a cousin when Reese rushed up, crossed and kissed her.

"Give me another chance, Anna," he said.

Then he backed away, drew a revolver and fired twice. The armed fugitive, the police believe, is hiding in the woods.

SUGAR WILL BE RATIONED

Concerns Agree With U. S. and Refineries and Threatened Crisis Is Averted

New York, June 17.—Distribution of sugar to preserve manufacturers and canning concerns pro rata, according to refinery capacity, was determined upon at a conference here yesterday between A. W. Riley, special assistant to Attorney General Palmer; Marcus Blakemore, of Louisville, Ky., president of the National Preservers and Fruit Product Association and representatives of two large sugar refineries.

Mr. Blakemore wired the 67 members of his association, which is said to represent 90 per cent, of the jam and jelly output crisis is ended, as refineries have agreed promptly to supply sugar where needs are urgent." He pointed out at the conference that sugar represents 60 per cent. of finished jam and jelly products. He predicted that as a result of the refineries' agreement there would be an increase of 40 per cent. in the output of those products next winter.

BOY KILLS SELF

Miami, Fla., June 16.—Ralph E. Johnston, 18-year old son of a New York actress, committed suicide in the woods near here yesterday when he was surrounded by a posse, according to police reports.

Johnston, it is said, had fired 8 shots at N. G. Tuckerman, real estate man, when his attempts to blackmail Tuckerman failed. The shots went wild.

The boy came here from New York in April, it was learned, with Tuckerman's son.
